Dear Mr. Fleishman:

Enclosed you will find a copy of the letter which is being sent to all our Committee members, and which contains the programme for our Denver meeting. You will notice that you are down -- as we arranged -- for Saturday morning, 25 May. We have entitled your presentation "Obscenity and the Law", so as to give you the maximum latitude in your discussion of the subject. The entire morning is yours, if you so wish, but we would hope that at least half of it can be open to general discussion by the member of the Committee, which you, of course, would lead.

The only addition is the one I mentioned over the telephone to Miss Saquin<sup>a</sup> few days ago, and involves including your name on the programme for Saturday afternoon, which will be a discussion of "standing". Our New York lawyer, Michael Miller, will be giving the principal presentation and conducting the discussion, but it was our thought that, since you will be present, you should have an opportunity to make any observations and comments you might wish prior to our opening up the subject to general discussion. It is for this reason that your name has been listed together with Mr. Miller's and not because we expect any prepared presentation, unless, of course, you so wish. We simply want to share your thoughts on this important problem.

Reservations have been made for you at the New Albany Hotel, our headquarters for the meeting, beginning Friday evening, the 24th, as you requested. We have left your departure time open, though we are planning that you will be with us on Sunday as well, so that you can participate in the discussion on the Sexual Law Reporter.

Allow me to express the Committee's and my own appreciation for your attendance at and participation in our meeting.

Very sincerely yours,

Arthur C. Warner
