Dear Arthur:

I apologize for taking so long to get back with you regarding Tom Coleman's Law Reporter. I discussed the matter with three Law Students who seemed to show some interest: Jerry Richardson, Roy Baca, and David Hughes.

Jerry Richardson is finishing his second year in Law School and expressed an unqualified interest to work on the Project. Roy Baca is finishing his first year and would not be available to work until the fall and prior to a definite commitment on his part would like to know more about it, precisely what would be required of him. David Hughes is finishing his second year in Law School and is willing to work on the project conditioned upon my being able to obtain Law School credits for him to do so. I think that can probably be arranged. He too wants a more definite idea of what would be expected.

These guys are all sort of transient and I think it would be best that Tom correspond with them through me. I generally have an idea as to where they are. If you have anything to forward on to them, just send it directly to me at the above address in Albuquerque.

Sincerely yours,

THOMAS E. HORN
