Victims of probate court injustices, family members, and community leaders will join with legal advocates to discuss ongoing and systemic problems with the probate conservatorship system.

Hear the stories of victims such as former football quarterback Erik Kramer. Listen to Kerri Kasem, daughter of the late radio personality Casey Kasem, share the pain that families often experience. Learn of the impact on local communities from community leaders such as Alameda County Supervisor Nate Miley and Berkeley City Councilman Ben Bartlett. #FreeBritney movement advocates will explain why they are protesting the 13-year conservatorship nightmare of superstar Britney Spears. Learn how the rights of young adults with developmental disabilities are routinely violated. Legal experts will share suggestions for legislative and judicial reforms. Become educated on the issues and then join with others to expand the coalition working for change.

Town Hall presentations will be featured on the premier episode of The Freedom Files – a Pursuit of Justice Podcast – anticipated for release on March 1, 2021. For podcast information, go to: <https://pursuitofjusticepodcast.com/>
